WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1855.

It is but seldom that we are fortunate enough to sit down to such a splendid repast as that provided last night by Dr. Holmes in his lecture on the poet Wordsworth. In view of the fact that the Doctor had chosen "The Excursionist" as the subject of his first lecture, we imagined that his idea of Wordsworth's poetry was more exalted than our own; but the masterly style in which he proceeded to analyze the voluminous works of the poet, enabled us oon to discover our mistake, and to find out that in criticism as in poetry the lecturer was entitled fully to the exalted reputation he enjoys.

Although many among his large audience were inclined to think Wordsworth "dry and uninteresting"-and we confess ourselves as among the number-there can be but one opinion as to the excellence of "Holmes on Wordsworth." The poetry, wit, and eloquence of the talented lecturer are too widely known to require notice from ue; but, notwithstanding his reputation in these particulars, we confess we were unprepared for such a masterly exposition of them as his subject called forth last night.

The graceful tribute which the paid to "Woman's Worth," in allusion to an error in the Journal in calling attention to the lecture, and his own beautiful lines, with which he concluded his discourse, drew down, as they deserved, the marked approbation and applause of his delighted audience.

To-morrow night, the Doctor gives his second lecture on "Moore and Byron;" and as both the lecturer and the poets are the prime favorites of this generation the Church will doubtless be crowded.

A DISPENSARY .- A few philanthropic gentlemen have contributed the funds necessary for the establishment of a dispensary; and, by reference to an advertisement in another column. it will be seen that they propose opening this such needed charity on Thursday morning, in e building hitherto used by the pupils of the Institution for the Blind as a manufactory, situated on Seventh street, between Walnut and Chestnut. The single object proposed by the managers of the dispensary is to afford medical advice and medicines gratuitously to the indigent sick, of whom our city just now contains a very large number. Two physicians have kindly consented to take charge of the institution and repair there daily, at regular hours, for the purpose of examining and prescribing for all sick persons who may present themselves. Arrangements have been made with a competent druggist, who will furnish all the medicines required, looking to the managers alone for his remuneration.

We feel that we cannot too highly commend this dispensary to all sick persons, who, from the general depression of the times, or misfortune, or any other circumstances, are unable to command good medical attention or purchase the necessary remedies.

The Eastern mail was a total failure last evening-the cars on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad having failed to connect at Seymore with the train of the Jeffersonville railroad.

P. S.—We learn from the Messenger of Edams & Co.'s Express, to whom we are indebted for Cincinnati papers, that a spring of the locomotive on vesterday morning's train for Cincinnati was broken, which caused the machine to run off the track. After a delay of 45 minutes the train was able to proceed.

Why where are her dear Majesty's lips? When France's ex-loafer was kissing her first upon one cheek and then upon the other, hadn't he the courage and the good taste to pause for an all-blissful moment half-way between the two?

A correspondent of the St. Louis Dem crat, writing from Westport, Mo., under date of the 31st ult., announces the arrival of Governor Shannon there. He was received by Stringfellow and other members of the Kansas Legislature. He made an address subsequently, in which he approved all the acts of the Legislature, and avowed himself in favor of the establishment of slavery in Kansas.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE HORTICUL-TURAL S.CILTY .- It will be seen from an advertisement that the annual exhibition of the Horticultural Society will commence on Tuesday next and continue for three days. It will doubtless be the finest that has ever taken place. The exhibition will be held at the hall of the echanics' Institute, corner of Walnut and ond streets.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT IN BEHALF OF THE NORFOLK SUFFERERS .- We publish below the proceedings of a meeting held at the Court House last night, pursuant to a call signed by a number of our most respectable merchants, to provide means for the relief of the suffering population of Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. These lately populous and thriving cities of the hospitable Old Dominion have been completely devastated by the fearful ravages of a plague. Hundreds have died daily. All who were able to leave have fled, but thousands remain, from affection or charity for the sick or from want of means to reach a more healthful abode. All business is suspended. The stores and banks are closed, the workshops are idle Hundreds of families who never before knew what it was to want are without the actual necessaries of life. The living are scarcely able to bury the dead.

Nearly all the principal cities in the Union have contributed their quota for the relief of these sufferers. We are sure that the charity of our citizens will be promptly manifested in this cause, and the committees for collection will receive liberal contributions from those upon whom they may call.

At a meeting held at the Court House on Tues-day night to take steps for the relief of the suffering at Norfolk and Portsmouth-

On motion Capt. T. C. Coleman was called to the chair and Will. Watkins appointed Secre-

M., to organize and take such measures as may be deemed by them necessary. 3. That all collections made be paid over to the Mayor that he may remit to the proper authorities at Norfolk and Portsmouth. The Chair appointed the following persons: 1st Ward-G. W. Dunlap, John Lyon, and

Moore. 2d Ward-Capt. J. R. Hamilton, Jacob Smith and Sanders Shanks.

COSTLY CIGARS .- Mr. Palacio, who has a cigar store under the Louisville Hotel, has just received a limited supply of cigars, which is probably the finest article of the kind ever brought here.

He has imported them from Havana for the purpose of exhibiting them at the Fair. There are five different kinds. They are beautiful. Their cost at Havana is $300 for five hundred, or 60 cent apiece.

We miscalled the accomplished cardwriter of whom we made mention yesterday. It is Levin S. Tarr. His cards are most beautifully written, with much elaborate design and many varieties of pattern. Those who wish neat visiting cards should give him a call at the Galt House.

To the Editors of the Louisville Bulletin: KENTUCKY AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL FAIR

First Day.

LEXINGTON, Sept. 11, 1855. GENTLEMEN: The sixth great annual exhibition of this Society is now fairly opened. Since I last attended a fair at this place the Society's grounds have been greatly improved, and a large new amphitheatre has been erected on a most extensive and improved plan, occupying a much more eligible site than the old one. The grounds too are in admirable order, thickly carpeted with a most verdant covering of Kentucky blue-

The present season, so productive of fine crops, and the exceedingly pleasant weather, has called out an immense concourse of people, and what renders the fairs of Kentucky particularly interesting is the attendance of so large a proportion of ladies, who by their presence always lend enchantment to the scene. The amphitheatre is now densely crowded with this fairest portion of creation.

There is now within the ring a very respectable display of domestic fabrics of various kinds, among them a large number of quilts and other specimens of needlework. I could only obtain a telescopic glance from that section of the great amphitheatre appropriated to invited guests. You know that outsiders are never admitted within the circle of such loveliness and beauty. This is a privilege extended only to the judges. I shall send up my name as a candidate for one at the next fai

The display of agricultural implements is rather meager. It is confined mainly to a few plows and grain-threshers and separator. Of the later there are several by different manufacturers of other States. They are of the kind generally used in the more extensive graingrowing regions.

Of wheat, several specimens are on exhibition, as white and plump as any I have ever seen grown in this section of the West.

Of water-rotted hemp, there is quite a number of specimens, equal in quality to any that has ever been furnished to the American navy from the Russian dominions.

Of fruits and vegetables there is a very respectable display, and various other articles of which I have not time now to enumerate or to notice more fully.

The first day of the exhibition is confined to articles of domestic manufacture, including, among others, hats, shoes, leather, agricultural machines, products of the field, orchard, garden, dairy, &c. The rule of confining certain articles exclusively to each day of the exhibition is peculiar, I think, alone to Kentucky fairs. For Fayette, Bourbon, and other interior counties of the State, this is well enough. It adds a new feature, and with it increasing interest to each day of the exhibition. Every est to each day of the exhibition. Every farmer, with his wife and daughters, may attend every day, and return to their homes at night, or if there are some who find it too far to do this they may return with those who live nearer, and thus increase the pleasure of the occasion, extending the holidays to the end of the week.

But this arrangement is not so applicable to a great State exhibition, and as the agricultural fairs of Louisville partake more of this charac-ter I should be glad to see other rules adopted there. Louisville, through the great natural and artificial avenues of travel, is open to all points of the country, and if the association there would establish its "Mechanics' Hali," "Manufacturers' Hall," "Floral Hall," and its "Dairy Hall," and have them well filled and arranged, each with their appropriate articles, previou to the opening of the fair, together with its acre of agricultural machines, thousands who are not able to spend a whole week in a large city, would come one day and return the next, and have a full view of the entire exhibition. I did not come here to talk about the great fair which is to be next month in Louisville, for there will be more here worthy of notice than one can see in a fortnight, should be choose to stay so long. To-morrow is the day set apart for the exhibition of cattle, sheep, and hogs.

I regret that not more than half of the awards of premiums are returned at the time of the departure of this afternoon's cars. I will send it to you by to-morrow morning's mail.

Gen's. Simpson and Pellissier report that the attack upon the Tchernaya was a deliberate attempt to raise the seige of Sebastopol.

A document was found on a dead Russian General, showing that if they had succeeded in taking the heights a further attack from four points was to have been made.

Gen. Simpson estimates the Russian force at 55,000 infantry, 6,000 cavalry and 160 guns.

The French had only 12,000 men and 4 batteries engaged and the Sardinians 4,500 men and 24 guns, while the enemy had only one battery.
The Russians carried the bridge and crowned the heights three times with great gallantry, but were repulsed and their retreat was covered by the Russian batteries.

Pellissier states the French loss at 15 officers killed, 53 wounded; 172 men killed, 150 missing, and 1,160 wounded.

The Sardinian loss was 250. The Russian loss was 3 000 killed, 5,000 rounded, and 1,800 prisoners.

Gen. Simpson says the Redan and Mallakoff vere bombarded on the 17th with as much effect as was anticipated.

We perceive that our young friend Miss Sue E. Weed, of Cazenovia, New York, who has made herself famous by her beautiful poefry in the Louisville Journal, and whom we regard as one of the brightest stars in the galaxy of American literature, was married in Cazenovia on the 6th inst., to Mr. Miles Sells, of St. Louis. We do not know the fortunate bridegroom, but we trust that our glorious young Eagle has mated with a kindred Eagle.

We think that the finest and most graphic description that we have ever seen of the Mammoth Cave is the one in the last number of tne Princeton Kentuckian, from the pen of that paper's able and accomplished editor, Mr. S. C. Mercer. We have laid it by for re-publication in our own columns.

SETTEMBER 6, 1855.

GENTLEMEN: I have lately read in your valuable paper several notices of the progress of the work upon the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, from which I learn that it is being as rapidly pushed forward as the means in command of the Company will allow, and that there is now a very reasonable assurance that the work will be vigorously prosecuted until the completion of the entire road, which his a prospect very different from the one presented by the affairs of the road one year ago, when operations were suspended upon almost its entire length. Want of means, a ruinous contract, and simustuniversal dissatisfaction seemed then to give promise of the early abandomment of the enterprise. A new Hoard of Directors was elected, who selected as their President Gov. Helm, upon whom SEPTEMBER 6, 1855. ted, who selected as their President Gov. The time of election of President of the Company is again drawing near. Is it not due the interests of the road that Gov. Helm, having shown himself to be see eminently qualified for the position, shall be retained in office? I can safely say that such is the earnest desire of the whole

An Atrocious Murder.—A man by the name of Wm. Knapp was murdered last Friday, in Saline county opposite this place, in a most cowardly and brutal manner. He was sitting in his cabin eating his dinner, when he was shot through a crack in the house, the contents of the gun lodging in the back of his head. The assassin then set the house on fire, and left. Some negroes came along soon afterwards.

ARRIVAL OF THE NORTHERN LIGHT.

The Northern Light, from San Juan, brings 447 passengers, and $1,005,597, from San Francisco Aug. 18th per steamship Uncle Sam.
Gold continues to come in plentifully from the mines, and money is much easier.

Passengers by this ship came through in perfect health, there having been no cholera or other disease on the route for two months past. The River is high, and the route in excellent order. The new Lake boat "San Carlos," capable of carrying a thousand passengers comfortably, commenced her regular trips on the 30th ult. The company now having three boats 30th ult. The company now having three boats on the Lake, there is no possibility of detention.

The war still rages in the interior. On the 18th ult., at Sance, 24 leagues from Leon, to-wards Segovia, a bloody battle was fought between the Government troops, under Guardiola, and the Democratic army under Munos, assis ted by Alvarez with forces from Honduras, resulted in the complete defeat which Guardiola, and the death of Munos. On the 26th Col. Walker landed at San Juan del Sur, with 56 men of his command, and 170 of the Democratic army under Mendez, leaving a reserve on his schooner of about 80 men. He was en-deavoring to recruit from the Califoania passengers, with but little success. He offered every facility to the Transit Co., proffering a guard

He has just concluded a contract for the Shepard grant of thirty-five millions of acreof land on the Musquito Coast, and has sent an agent to Granada to get the grant confirmed by the Nicaraguan government, and also to abtain permission to settle in Choutules. He is sanguine of success. He has erected a frame building of two stories for a printing office, and is to publish a paper soon, the materials having arrived on the English steamer of the 31st, with Consul Fabens and thirty men.

Isaiah C. Wood, late managing partner in the house of Adams & Co., and A. A. Cohen, late receiver of Adams & Co., have both left us under a cloud, and it is probable that we shall never see either of them again in these diggings.

Our newspaper columns daily dish up these parties, as charge after charge is brought to light in the divers law suits now pending against them. It may be proper for me to say, that, so far as Woods and Cohen were charged as concerned in the manufacture and sale of bogus gold dust to Page, Bacon, & Co., during a period of two years past, through some technicality in the law papers, their sureties were all canceled by the That done, they left for parts unknown

The P. M. S. S. Co.'s steamer Sonora arrived at 8 o'clock, this morning, with the New York mails of July 20th, just seven days behind the Uncle Sam, of the Nicaragua Line. The Golden Gate, with the U. S. Mail, and the Uncle Sam, via Nicaragua, with the expresses of Wells, Fargo, & Co., and Freeman & Co., leave within the hour, carrying over two millions of treasure.

Business the first week in August was active for speculations in all kinds of merchandise. Since then, a perfect stagnation has enveloped the city, which, with the stringency in money matters to pay heavy freights on the large arrivals of goods early in the month, and large speculative operations in the early part of the month, has caused quite a pall to be thrown over the minds of our citizens. Real estate is lower than ever before. Money is offered on undoubted security, for two years, at $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per month.

Politics is the only active feature, and the whole State is in motion; Know-Nothings, Tem-perance men, Democrats, and Whigs are all in the field, and we shall have exciting times on the 6th September.

On the evening of the 6th inst, a band of Mexicans entered the village of Rancheria Amador county, and murdered five American men, one American woman, and an Indian

In a public house, called Rancheria House, in which the Mexicans made their first attack, they killed two strangers who had called in to stay that night, and also wounded Mr. Dia-mond severely, but it is thought that he will re-cover. They also killed Mrs. Diamond. Mr. Dia-The Mexicans next proceeded to the store of

Mr. French, where they procured, after bursting open the safe and killing Mr. French and his cierk, the sum of $7,000, after which they left for parts unknown. The Americans turned out that night and gave chase to the perpetrators. Three Mexicans were hung, and all the others in the neighborhood were ordered to leave the country; a number of Americans were murdered, one by one, four Frenchmen were murdered in a heap by Mexicans, and a great excitement prevailed throughout the vicinity. The Indians, to avenge the death of their brother in blood, murdered three Mexicans.

From a gentleman who arrived from Amador county, says the San Joaquin Republican, we learn that nine of the outlaws-eight Mexicans and one American-had been arrested and summarily executed.

The following was telegraphed to the State

Sonora, Aug. 13, 1855.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Phoenix, of Amador co., and Clark, of Calaveras, with a posse, passed through this place on the trail of some 8 or 10 of the Amador robbers. Upon arrival at Salvada, a Mexican camp near Chinese, they entered a dance-house, and while making search inside, a party of the band came up. The sheriff's party met them at the door, and a desperate fight took place, in which Wm. A. Phœnix, sheriff of Amador co., was killed, and two or three Americans wounded, but not seriously; two or three Mexicans were killed, and a numper of houses burned. The Mexicans fought like tigers—using a revolver in each hand.

More Indian troubles in the north are reported. Yreka, during the last few days of July, was in a constant ferment. It originated from a drun-ken affray between a white and an Indian, in which the former was killed. The whites cap-tured the latter and hung him Same night a party of the Applegate tribe descended on Buckeye Bar, on Klamath river, and killed nine men. Arms and ammunition were promptly placed in the hands of volunteers, to rid the country of the savages. Two Indians subsewere shot down by savages, on the 31st ult. The excitement has since subsided.

An exceedingly French affair, which came near causing a loss of life, took place on the 2d inst. A Frenchman named Briant went into the office of L. E. Ritter & Co., with a carpet-bag containing twelve pounds of gunpowder. He previously had had some difficulty with the firm regarding a mortgage which was held by them. After warning the occupants of the house by means of a letter handed to one of the clerks he went in a back room where the senior partner of the firm, with two friends, was sitting and, opening the carpet-bag, threw in a lighted cigar. Briant was badly hurt, his hand being horribly mutilated. Several others received slight scratches. Briant has been arrested for ault with intent to commit murder.

The British and French fleet, with one or two exceptions, have left port, but the former suffered much annoyance from desertions. lost eighteen men, who escaped in boats to the hills, back of Saucelito. The French sailors, affected with the scurvy, have recovered with few exceptions.

Tragedy at Diamond Springs .- The parties are Miss Susan Newnham, a young lady about 18 years of age, and Mr. J. V. Craine, formerly from Kentucky. Craine, it appears, had been paying addresses to the lady, and this morning asked her to become his wife, and on her reher to become his wife, and on her re fusing he first struck her with his hand and then shot her twice, one ball taking effect in the shoulder; when she turned to run from him, he again shot her in the head, the ball entering the right side of the brain. The lady is still alive, but it is supposed cannot survive long. Craine

J. V. Craine's Confession .- Two weeks ago I conceived the idea of killing Susan. Disgraceful reports that had been circulated were the cause; did not know who started them; thought it was Susan's father, but found out afterward that it was not. Susan first formed an attachmen, for him fifteen or eighteen months ago; and then it became reciprocal; he had al-About a thought a great deal of her. year ago they had been married; they had signed a marriage contract, and God Almighty had married them. Another person was a suitor for her hand, and her parents favored him. This was the cause of all the difficulty. He has a wife, or has had, in the Atlantic States, and this was the reason why he could not marry Susan according to law.

More than a year ago he had anonymous letters, which he believes are true, stating that his wife in the East had married again. He had told Susan that he would kill her and himself, and that they would live together in the next world: but she did not think I would kill her then; I had a pistol to commit the deed with. [After wounding Susan the pistol would not revolve, and he could not kill himself, and threw it away; a knife was rejected because it was rusty; and, feeling sure of a rope, he re turned to meet his fate] Nobody knew I in tended to commit the crime. Susan and I will be happy in the next world. I am over thirty years of age, and have four children near Lex-ington, Fayette county, Ky., named Melissa, Campbell, Jeremiah, and Frank; John, the fifth, is dead. I think Andrew Jackson Davis's work the greatest in the world.

As persons may be curious to learn the mode in which the marriage ceremony above alluded to was conducted, we copy the following state-ment of Miss Newnham:

About one year ago Mr. J. V. Craine com menced paying attention to me. There was no engagement between us except the oath here filed as follows, marked (A):

"I now declare before high heaven, and call God to witness, that I never will marry any one but you—not if all the world is against you. I am yours in life and death, and it shall be the business of my life to obey you in all things, and to do all in my power to make you happy.
help me God. SUSAN M. NEWNHAM

"This is from the bottom of my heart." She stated further that she had a paper of a similar character from Craine, and that about eight months ago Craine snatched the paper binding him from her, and tore it all to pieces in her presence. She then asked him for hers, which is above mentioned, and he refused to give it up at that time, but did give it to her about two or three months ago. She also stated about two or three months ago that Craine did not force her to sign the oath but just worried her out of it. About one week ago Craine threatened to kill her, William, and himself. No one was connected with Craine in the crime to her knowledge. Her mother knew of the engagement, but did not know anything of the oath, as she termed the papers marked A.

Arrival from Petropoloski.-Yesterday the clipper ship Levanter, Capt. Peterson, arrived from New York via Valparaiso, and 28 lays from Petropoloski visions which were consigned to the correspondent of Messrs. Sanders & Brenham, of this city, at Petropoloski. Capt. Peterson touched at the last named place to land his cargo, found the place nearly deserted; only three Americans and a few Russians in the place. They were reported to be short of provisions, &c., when he landed some stores, consisting of the following articles: 9 boxes loaf sugar, 22 quarter chests tea, 13 boxes soap, 19 quarter boxes raisins, 12 jars prunes, 2 cases tobacco, 4 baskets champagne, which were all they required at present. Capt. Peterson reports the town of Petropoloski to be in perfect ruins. The fortifications were destroyed, and most of the buildings burnt up. The U. S. sloop-of-war Vincennes, Capt. Rogers, and U. S. surveying schooner J. Fennimore Cooper, had sailed a few days previous for Behring's Straits, and on a surveying cruise. No further news of importance

Salt Mines in Lower California .- The school ner Honolulu arrived from Point San Quentin, Lower California, with a cargo of rock salt, ta-ken from the beds in Lower California, situated about five miles in the interior, west from Point

San Quentin. American Ladies in Japan .- We are informed by Capt. Burrows, of the ship Lizzie Jarvis, from Hong Kong, that some time before his departure from that port the news had been re-ceived from Samodi, in Japan, that an American trading vessel (a brig or schooner) had arrived there having on board some merchants (Americans) and their wives, and that the Japanese au-thorities had opposed the landing of the ladies. When the Young America left there the vessel had sailed. No reason is given for the ungallant conduct of the Japanese, though, being famous stickiers for the letter of the law, they probably urged that Commodore Perry had made no mention of women being entitled to the international privileges mentioned in the Japanese treaty.

Tobacco-Worms .- We hear of great complaint among farmers about the ravages of the worm, on the growing tobacco. They are worse than they have been for many years.

CHINA.—Execution of Rebels at Canton.—In our remarks on the retirement of the rebels from Sunchow. it is stated that the thousands of men brought to Canton as prisoners are now decapitated at the rate of a hundred and fifty a That was the number, we were told, exeday. cuted on Saturday last, a spectacle to which we were witness. The Canton execution ground has before been described in this journal, and for all our readers it is not necessary to repeat that it is situated about 100 yards from the river, at a distance of two miles or so below the factories. The ground is oblong, about 150 feet in length, the entrance on the side nearest the river being about six feet. This is closed with bars during practical operations. At the grand entrance the ground is about 20 feet wide. On the right hand, doorways open to several oven and tile manufactories.

As we approached the execution ground, many were met with hands to their nostrils, or with their tails tied round their faces, for the purpose of avoiding the horrid stench, which could literally be "felt" at a considerable distance. The ground was covered with partially dried gore, the result of the past day's work. There are no drains to take the blood away, no is any substance used to slake it. One man was found digging holes for two crosses, on which, he said, four were to be tied and cut in

The execution had been fixed for noon. At 111 half-a-dozen men arrived with knives, preceded by bearers of rough deal wood boxes, decorated with bloody sides. These were the coffins. Unconcern was the general appearance of the soldiers and spectators, of whom, altogether, there may have been one hundred and fifty. The day was dull, a fresh breeze from the eastward carrying the stench away from foreigners, who, to the number of a dozen, had obtained admittance to the tops of one of the houses on the far side of the street passing the entrance of this "field of blood" At 112 the first batch of ten prisoners arrived; speedily lowed by the rest in similar quantities. Each prisoner (having his hands tied behind his back and labelled on the tail) appeared to have been thrust down in a wicker basket, over which his chained legs dangled loosely, the body riding uncomfortably and marked with a long paper tally, pasted on a strip of bamboo thrust be tween the prisoner's jacket and his back.

These "man-baskets," slung with small cords, were carried on bamboos on the shoulders of two men. As the prisoners arrived, each was made to kneel with his face to the south. In a space of about 20 feet by 12 we counted as many as 70, ranged in half a dozen rows. At 5 min-utes to 12 a white-button mandarin arrived, and the two to be first cut in pieces were tied to the crosses. While looking at this frightening process the execution commenced, and 20 or 3 must have been headless before we were aware The only sound to be heard was a horrid cheep—cheep, as the knives fell. One blow was sufficent for each—the head tumbling between the legs of the victim before it. As the sword falls, the blood-gushing trunk springs forward, falls on the breast, and is still for ever. In four minutes the decapitation was complete, and then on the other victims commenced the barbarity, which to think of only is suffi-ciently barbaric. With a short, sharp knife a slice was cut out from under each arm. suppressed, fearful groan from each followed operation of the weapon. Dexterous as butchers, a slice was taken successively by the operators from the calves, the thighs, and then from each breast. We may suppose, we may hope, that by this time the sufferers were insensible to pain, but they were not dead. The knife was then suck into the abdomen, which was ripped up to the breast-bone, and the blade twisted round and round as the heart was separated from its holding. Up to this moment, having once set eyes on the victim under torture, they had become fixed as by fascination; but they could be riveted there no long-A whirling sensation ran through the brain. and it was with difficulty we could keep our-selves from falling. But this was not all; the lashings were then cut, and the head, being tied by the tail to a limb of the cross, was severed from the body, which was then dismembered of hands and arms, feet and legs, separately, After this the mandarins left the ground, to re turn, however, with a man and woman; the latter, it was said, the wife of one of the rebel chiefs—the man a leader of some rank. woman was cut up in the way we have described; for the man a more horrible punishment was decreed. He was flayed alive. We did not see this, but it was witnessed by the Sergeant of Marines of the U. States ship, J. P. Kennedy— the cry at the first insertion of the knife across the forehead, and the pulling of the flesh over the eyes, being most horrible.

LATEST NEWS.

The Eastern mail failed again this morning. The mail, we learn, arrived at Cincinnati in due time, but owing to the negligence of the person whose business it is to transfer it from the Little Miami depot to the Ohio and Mississippi depot, at Cincinnati, it is suffered to lie over there 15 hours. Is it anybody's business to have it rectified? If so we should like to see him do it forthwith. This irregularity has existed for a whole week.

We learn from the Madison Courier that Robbins & Pendell, of that city, have contracted to furnish the National Hotel in this city, which is shortly to be opened.

The regular meeting of Young America (Second ward) Council will be held this evening at 71 o'clock at the hall of the Lafayette Fire Company.

THE aame of the authoress of the above work speaks volumes I in its favor, and in this she has produced the crowning effort of her pen. For freshness and vigor of thought and style and for originality—in the charming views of country life at the 'Old Farm Hause'—in the striking illustrations of the follies of a fashionable city life—in her description of good and eval natures—in all the various subjects which she has touched with her magic pen, she cannot be excelled. The gentle heroing Amy, is a model of patience and virtue, persecuted by the evaluation of the life, the villain Staunton.

The book will be read with avidity, and none who coammone it will desire to lay it aside till fushed. We offer with full confidence that its peruval will be attended with pleasure and profit to all readers.

[For the Louisville Journal.]

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, N. E. corner of Walnut and Fourth streets Louisville, on the death of Dr. Spencer Cone, of New York city, President of the American Bible Union.

The writer of the letter to the Hebrews sents to the consideration of the Saints in Christ Jesus, for their remembrance and affection, the long line of illustrious individuals who had gained distinction in the fields of Godly faith and obedience. They are passed in review as examples worthy of remembrance, and as possessors of virtues which we are to imitate; as workers of righteousness who should excite our emulation. The teacher of the Hebrews brought forward only those who had been faith-ful under the old covenant, and he said that time would fail him in even enumerating these The cloud of wit esses which then encompassed the saints in Christ Jesus has largely increased since that time. It has spread until it has near ly covered the earth, and every age of God's new dispensation has added to its increase and its powers. Christianity has its names of re-nown in faith, who are worthy of the esteem, love, and reverence of all to whom Christian truth is dear. And among these objects of af-fection the memory of Dr. Spencer Cone, of New York city, stands conspicuous. According to the measure of the light Dr. Cone possessed, he faithfully and fearlessly walked in the truth of the New Testament, following wherever he believed it led him regardless of all peronal consequences

For the space of forty years he was a bright and shining light among our Baptist brethrene and, although he had attained the highest positions among his brethren, though he was honored as one of the most faithful and eloquent teachers of Christianity, though he was eminent for piety, learning, and zeal, he was a willing learner in the school of Christ up to his dying hour Seventy years of pupilage in that school found him at their close still an humble, zealous, hon-est, and faithful searcher after truth. God had given him an ample stewardship of talents, and faithfully did he perform his duties toward his fellow-men in disbursing his gifts by teaching, as the only righteousness that is acceptable to God, obedience to all the mandates, precepts, and principles taught by Jesus Christ.

ly satisfied with the attainments of their ambition, Brother Cone was aroused to the fact that the word of God is not presented in our common version, nor in any of those versions for which it has been made to act as a standard, in the terms uttered by the Holy Spirit. He felt that it was grievous evil that there should be one Bible for the learn d and another, differing materially for the unlearned. He nobly determined to strike down this enormous wrong. He turned his back upon all the high honors he had won, upon all the favors and reverence that had been bestowed upon him for his services in the cause of that evil which he had unwittingly sustained and, with a pure heart and a self-sacrificing spirit, he earnestly, honestly, and zealously commenced his noble lators. Old age had found him just awaking to this solemn, cred duty, but such was his energy, his vigor his zeal, and his power of concentration, that he seemed to renew his youth, and he labored as though he was resolved to redeem the time that

When Dr. Cone first recognized these duties he clearly foresaw the floods of calumny, the bitter persecution, the unrelenting war that were to be his doom. But against the floods he

"Firm as the surge-repelling rock." storm had no peril that he feared to meet, and the war had no power that he was not ready to confront. When he recognized it to be his duty to advocate the immortal truth that the ideas of the Holy Spirit should be transferred from the original language into all other lan-guages by terms in each of those languages that most plainly, clearly, and palpably express the ideas of the spirit of God, Dr. Cone girded on the heavenly armor, fought the good fight valiantly, faithfully, and successfully, and he died upon the field in full harness, in the seventyfirst year of his age. At the time of his death he was the president of the American Bible Union for the revision of the Holy Scriptures. For the advancement of that cause he labored zealously and understandingly; he liberally en-riched the library of the American Bible Union by the gift of many rare and recondite books; his able counsels were always ready for the use of the cause, and in every possible way he was efficient in service. The excellence of his la-bors is recognized over America and Europe. and wherever they are known they are honored and reverenced by all who value the pure truth of God's holy word.

The phases of humanity are accurately ed in the virtues which they recognize as worthy of honor and remembrance. The savage warlike people honor the destroyers of men; philosophers and men of science honor the vo aries of their departments; but the Christian, true to the guidance of that spirit which frees him from all trammels and leads him into all truth, recognizes faithful obedience to the en tire word of God, as the only virtue entitled to his honor, remembrance, and love. ognized a propriety in the conduct of the Phillippians in "boasting of him in Christ Jesus." And we may, therefore, boast to-day of one who knew no righteousness save that which belongs to obedience to the word of God, no terms of salvation except those proclaimed in the New Testament, and who taught and practiced the truth that every jot and tittle of the word of Jesus Christ is essential to the happiness and security of the saved. And so carefully did Dr. Cone cultivate his faith that it continued to grow until his dying hour, so that he who loved the truth, who believed and obeyed the Redeemer of men, and confidently trusted in the promises of Him who is to judge the living and the dead, was enabled to go on his way to death rejoicing in the light of immortality, and he sank to rest on the sure foundation of the

We feel, therefore, that in honoring the memory of Dr. Spencer Cone we are doing no more than justice to our own advancement in Christian truth and enlightment in the Holy Spirit. His devotion to Christianity, his fidelity to its behests, his unfaltering sense of duty under the gospel of Christ, and his earnest labors to induce all men to obey that gospel upon its own pure and simple terms, entitle him to live in the memory of all who themselves are devoted to those aims of life thus recognized as the highest that a mortal can know.

And in full view of the duties, privileges, and proprieties which pertain to us as mem-bers of the body of Jesus Christ, to render honor to whatever things are true, whatever whatever things are venerable, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are benevolent, whatever things are of good fame, and to any other virtue to which praise is due,

Resolved, That we fondly and affectionately cherish the memory of the Christian graces, the unwavering piety, and the self-sacrificing spirit of duty which characterized the Chrisspirit of duty which characte tian life of Dr. Spencer Cone.

2d. That we tend-rour sincere condolements to the First Baptist Church of New York city. and to all everywhere who faithfully preserve the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and who recognize one body and spirit, one hope of their calling, one Lord, one faith, one immer-sion, one God and Father of all, who is over all and with all and in all "the faithful," in the affliction that Christian truth has sustained in the death of Dr. Spencer Cone.

3d. That we sincerely mourn with the members of the American Bible Union and with all the friends of the revision of the English Bible. and of the faithful translation of God's word into all languages, in the severe loss which this holy cause has sustained in the President of the American Bible Union.

4th. That a copy of these proceedings be forwarded to Bro. W. H. Wyckoff, Corresponding Secretary of the American Bible Union, and to Bros. T. T. 5th. That these proceedings be spread upon the record book of this congregation.

6th. That we respectfully request the Publication Committee of the Western Recorder, the editors of the daily papers of this city, and of the Christian Age, at Cincinnati, to publish these proceedings.

In one duodecimo volume, neatly bound in cloth. Price $1.

THE author of this interesting American novel is among the most intellectual of living writers. It required the genius of the author to have grasped, with such extraordinary force, the seemes and oircumstances through which her story moves. No other writer could have thrown as strong an individual life into place and locality. Her passionate fearless nature, her wild warm heart, are transfused into the magic world she has created, with such an intense carnestness, when no one can enter without yielding to the irresistible fascination of her pewers. The book is a thrilling transcript of undoubted experience. The characters introduced into her work are flesh and blood realities. These graphic life revelations have created a profound literary sensation not equaled by any other production since the appearance of the "Scarlet Lietter" and "Jane Eyro." and are "more talked about than any other novel of our times.

Braithwaite's Retrospect for July. Braithwaite's Retrospect for July.
To medical men the great advantage offered by the Retrospect is its embodying in a confined space all the cream of Medical periodicals, sparing them the labor of wading through many velumes filled with much trivial and uninteresting matter, which must be perused in order to reach what is really valuable, and supplying them with a key by the aid of which they may find precisely what they require in any of the scattered publications of the day. To families and private individuals it is scarcely less valuable than to the professional reader, since, although purely and in the highest degree scientific, its contents are ye presented in a style so simple and unaffected that they are comprehensible to any ordinary intellect. The unique and beautiful style of this instrument and its perfect fitness for the parler are commendations that will not apply to the ordinary Grand Piano. For, while it combines the tone, power, action, and appearance of a Full Grand, that the delicate touch of Chickering's Square Pianos, acknowledged by every one superior to any other, and, though of seven octave compass, is still smaller in size than the semi-Grand Piano of 6% octaves, as it cocupies but little more space than a 7 octave Square Piano.

The peculiar and compact construction of the Parlor Grand, an invention of the late lamented Jonas Chickering, is a sure guarantee of its durability. And the complete success of this new and truly beautiful instrument fully sustains the reputation of its inventor and manufacturers.
